

About PCA Theatre

PCA Theatre challenges students to develop their craft through an intense curriculum that offers students an in-depth study in all aspects of theatre with special emphasis on acting and musical theatre. Students also benefit from working with adjunct faculty in voice and movement, as well as from the opportunity to perform and/or work backstage in the Richland District Two Auditorium, a state-of-the-art facility, as well as our Black Box Studio Theatre. PCA theatre students have received state and national recognition, as well as scholarships to top colleges and universities. PCA Theatre at Richland Northeast is a five-time American High School Theatre Festival winner selected to perform at Scotland's Edinburgh Fringe Festival.
